Storm Doors

Ultimate quality with functional beauty, storm-screen doors are perfect for all season performance.

Custom Built Quality

In 1961 John E. Gardner had an idea to purchase a small, failing aluminum storm window manufacturing company called Custom Built Aluminum Mfg Co. Through decades of hard work and a commitment to customer service, he was able to create a successful and strong reputation for the Rhode Island-based business.

At Custom Built Window and Door Systems, we pride ourselves on bringing a professional, knowledgeable, and comfortable approach to all of our projects. We've been a family-owned business for the past 50 years and like to treat our customers as if they were part of our family. Customer service is one of the top priorities at Custom Built. We make sure your project runs smoothly, is on time, and exceeds your expectations.

Our sales staff is extremely knowledgeable in all of our products and will listen to your specific needs to find the best solution for you. From windows to doors to porch enclosures, they understand how important everything is that goes into your home. We want you to be 100% comfortable with your project before making a decision.

Our installation technicians are trained to not only install quickly and efficiently, but to install your new product properly. Lasting quality is a goal of Custom Built, not only when building your new window or door, but when installing it as well. Our technicians are respectful of every home they walk into, leaving them better than they found them. That means no mess, minimal disturbances to your daily life, and peace of mind that your home is in good hands.

Suit Your Style!

New England weather can be unpredictable, which can lead to unexpected wear and tear on your doors. Custom Built storm doors are designed and built to withstand the consistent rigors of the outdoors while keeping rain, wind, dust, and unwanted heat or chilly air out of your home.

Available in a variety of styles and five colors, our storm doors not only protect your home, but add that one-of-a-kind style and design that is uniquely your own. Choose from multitude of glass panels and glare-free insect screens for year-round comfort and energy savings.

Each door is manufactured with top-quality components using time-tested manufacturing techniques, providing you with years of carefree service.

Optional Screening

Pet Resistant Insect Screen

Made of a strong vinyl-coated polyester, PetScreen is seven times stronger than regular screening! PetScreen resists and greatly reduces the clawing, tearing and other damage caused by pets.

Excellent Visibility Insect Screen

Utilizing 5% smaller yarns and 30% smaller aperture opening, Better View window and door screen is designed to maximize your outlook, making it possible to focus on what lies beyond your door. Think of it as "high definition" fiberglass insect screening, offering an outside view that is sharper and more brilliant.

Insulated Options

Maximize the strength and durability of your already rugged storm door by requesting our "Fully Insulated" option. Recommended for heavy traffic applications, we double-wall the panel section with 1/2" foam core reducing noise infiltration and offering quieter operation.

Features:

Rigid T-5 aluminum construction.

Maintenance-free baked enamel finish never requires painting.

Factory guaranteed extra-heavy cast corner gussets.

Insect screens feature charcoal alodized glare-free mesh.

Adjustable internal bottom expander with nylon sweep ensures a proper fit at the sill.

Jambs and header are weatherstripped with dense, non-shrinking, poly-backed pile, and are available for either 3/4" (Eastern) or 1 1/8" (Western) applications.

Four - 5" extended pin semi-concealed hinges with Teflon bushings ensure smooth operation.

Heavy duty automatic closure and soft-nosed sure-locking latch system.
